YANKEE DOINGS

Vol. 2 Boston, Mass. Jan.. 1, 1921 No. 1

GENERAL EDWARDS TELEGRAPHS GREETINGS

92FY ED 269

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. 346 DEC. 28, 1920

YANKEE DIVISION VETERANS ASSOCIATION
200 HUNTINGTON AVENUE,
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.

"A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO YOU YANKS OF THE YD. MAY GOD GRANT YOU EVERY GOOD FORTUNE THAT SHOULD BE YOURS THIS COMING YEAR. THIS IS A GRAND OLD COUNTRY OF OURS WHOSE HOMES WE DID SO MUCH TO SAVE. CHERISH ALL THE THINGS THAT WILL MAKE IT ENDURE. ALL I ASK FOR EACH OF YOU IS AN OPPORTUNITY. DON'T LET THE AFFLUENCE OF THE SLACKER DISCOURAGE OR MAKE YOU BITTER. AVOID INVIDIOUS COMPARISONS. THE GREATEST TREASURES IN YOUR LIFE SHOULD BE CONSCIOUSNESS OF DUTY FOR DUTY'S SAKE AND THE MAINTENANCE OF YOUR OWN SELF RESPECT. NO MAN CAN DEPRIVE YOU OF THESE. THE SLACKER WILL ALWAYS BE DENIED THESE TREASURES. THE HIGHEST MANHOOD STANDARD WAS OURS IN FRANCE NEVER LET THE PRE-WAR DOLLAR ONE SUPPLANT IT THIS COMING YEAR.

I HAVE YET TO HEAR OF CRIME, RAMPANT THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY,—AND RECENTLY SOMETIMES CHARGED TO WORLD WAR VETERANS,—ASCRIBED TO A MAN OF THE YANKEE DIVISION. IT MAKES ME PROUD. KEEP THE TITLE SACRED.

LET NOT A NAME WE WANT ON THE PEACE ROLLS OF OUR VETERANS ASSOCIATION BE ABSENT. OUR GREATEST GOOD THIS NEXT YEAR IS THE INSPIRATION OF YOUTH TO CITIZENSHIP. WE KNOW WHAT WE DID EVEN IF WE DON'T TALK ABOUT IT. OUR OWN BLOOD, AND FRANCE. KNOW THAT HISTORY WILL TELL; THEREFORE, AM I EARNEST IN MY CALL TO YOU TO LIVE THE SAME SPLENDID LIFE YOU DID IN FRANCE. THEN WILL THE INSPIRATION TO THE YOUTH OF THE COMING YEARS HAVE THE POTENT FORCE THAT THEY NEED, AND THE NATION HAVE IN THE DEEDS AND THE SACRIFICES OF THE YANKEE DIVISION.

C. R. EDWARDS"

2ND ANNUAL YD MILITARY BALL

The much-advertized and much-discussed 2nd Annual YD Military Ball at the East Armory, December 30th, so far exceeded expectations as to be by far the most successful spectacular event that the YD has yet held, and that Dame Boston has ever witnessed.

From the start of the Grand March led by General C. R. Edwards accompanied by Miss. Barbara Johnson, the sister of a YD Buck Private, and having in line

continued on page 6

GENERAL NIVELLE VISITS MEMORIAL CLUBHOUSE

On the occasion of the visit of General Georges Nivelle of the French Army, hero of Verdun and the Chemin des Dames, to Boston on December 3rd he expressed a wish to meet the veterans of the division who fought over the same battlefields that his troops had so stubbornly contested. A reception committee, consisting of Charles H. Cole, Charles A. Stevens,

continued on page 7

ONLY 63 DAYS MORE

YANKEE DOINGS
Published Monthly by the
Yankee Division Veterans' Association
200 Huntington Avenue, Boston, Mass.

Charles A. Stevens	President
Elon F. Tandy	Secretary
John O. Emerson	Managing Editor
James W. Boyer	Associate Editor

Correspondents
Philip H. English — New Haven, Conn.

Send all communications to the secretary

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH OUR ARMY?

Will those responsible for the future of our military establishment take advantage of the lessons learned during the World War, capitalize our experiences and have a fighting army, or a staff-ridden mob?

The so-called 'Leavenworth clique' have been running things with a high hand long enough. They have boasted of "getting" many people, Edwards among the rest. The list of G. S. Officers published the latter part of December is another piece of this Leavenworth stuff. Some of those selected in this bunch according to men acquainted with many of them, are not able to express themselves intelligently in the English language. It is a sad condition of affairs.

A gallant officer, who was a member of a class at Leavenworth, recently died. A committee of the class waited on the widow of this gallant officer and she was very bitter about this fool educational stuff and told all that her husband was killed by it. She begged them not to allow themselves to be killed with the same.

One officer, who has been a fighting man throughout his service, a natural leader of men who has taken part in every campaign during the past twenty-five years, stated: We had a most remarkable year at L—. Our instructors were for the most part young Captains who had never commanded a man in battle anywhere in their lives, yet they were selected to tell our class (most every man of whom had commanded a brigade or regiment in France and had led men in battle when these young pups were wearing swaddling clothes) how to command troops under fire. This was but one of many methods which so incensed the class that they got together—and the result was the relief of the Commandant, his Assistant and many of the faculty." We surely need a change. We must make this a fighting Army and not a "Staff-ridden mob." The Youngsters these days have some object lesson.

There must be no confirmation of general officers by the present Congress else we will have a continuation of conditions which will make our Army an uncertain factor for many years to come, controlled by a clique those methods are distinctive, instead of constructive It is hoped our Congressmen will take due notice of these conditions and govern themselves accordingly.

LITERARY ARTILLERY

A YANKEE PRISONER IN HUNLAND, By Private Clifford Milton Markle, Medical Department, 102nd Infantry, Yale University Press, Price $1.50

The entire Yankee Division received a stunning blow on April 22, 1918 when it realized that 183 of its numbers were missing in action as a result of the Battle of Seicheprey on the 20th. We all with one accord wondered just what kind of treatment would be afforded these lads who were taken prisoners by the Germans on their ill-fated storming of our small garrison at Seicheprey. Many accounts have been passed on to us varying only in the intensity of animosity shown by the Boche. But here we have a very readable account of Private Markle's experiences in the land of the Hun. He takes his readers from the moment that he and his buddies were taken across No Mans Land barefooted up thru Thiacourt to the various prison camps at Darmstadt and Cologne to the date of the Armistice and return to our lines.

This book covers a chapter of the history of our division heretofore unpublished and those whose fortunes were cast with the lads who were taken at Seicheprey will be glad to add Markle's book to their war collection.

J. W. B.,Jr.

Ev'ry Buddy get a Buddy
Go and get him vite!
Make him sign ye application,
Mail it in toot sweet.

If each Buddy gets a Buddy,
Soon we shall be full;
Then can we all hands together,
Shoot ye blooming Bull!

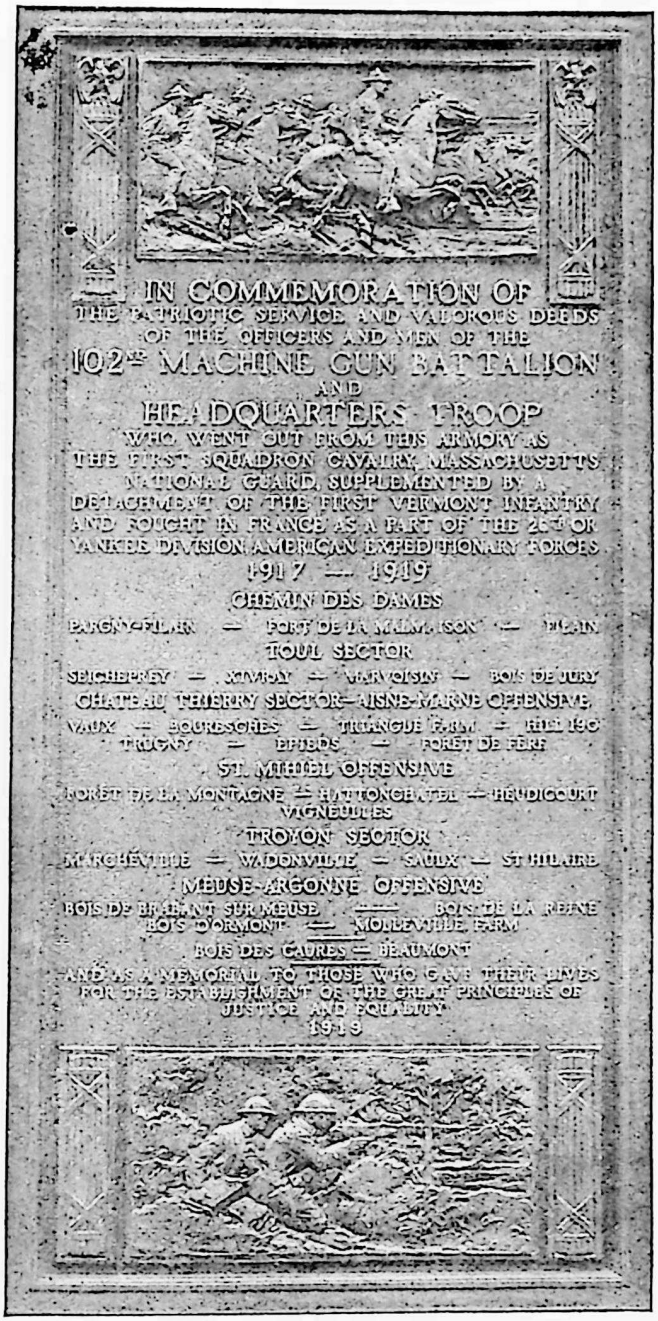
CLUB MEETING

In accordance with Article XXI Section 1 of the By-Laws, preparatory meeting of YD Club of Boston will be held in the Club Grill Room, January 12th at 8.30 p m. to elect a nominating committee of five men to serve in connection with the annual meeting later.

The Grill Room is now under the efficient stewardship of Mr. Alfred J. Leonardi, formerly Corporal, Batt. C. 101st F. A. Up to the time of his decision to come and supervise the messing of his YD Buddies he was manager of the Napoli Cafeteria and Restaurant. His menu for the Christmas Eve Cabaret Supper and Dance we have rarely seen equalled for the price, and there is a universal feeling that the Management is to be congratulated on his selection.

James J. Sach, the creator of the cartoon of the General leading his prize stock to combat, is a loyal YD booster. It seems evident that the YD Spirit which means so much to all of us is even stronger throughout the Middle West than it is right here in old New England.

We are informed that the YD Club of St. Louis will soon be a reality. Machine-Gun Parker, ex. C. O. of the 102nd Inf., is preparing the barrage that will bring the boys in.



A print of the beautiful Bronze Commemorative and Memorial Tablet which has been affixed to the pilaster at the right of the entrance of the Commonwealth Armory, Boston, is reproduced just above. This Tablet of Bronze to Memorialize the War Record of New England's Gallant 102nd Machine Gun Battalion and Headquarters Troop was dedicated on Sunday afternoon, September 19th The exercises were conducted by Lt. Col. William A. Perrins, president of the Battalion Home Association. The chief address was by General John M. Sherburne. Adj. Gen. Jesse Stevens, for Gov. Coolidge, accepted the tablet for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Miss Barbara Lincoln, of Quincy, daughter of Lieut. Clark R. Lincoln of Co. A. who was killed at the Marne, unveiled the tablet.

The tablet was designed by Raymond A. Porter, an eminent sculptor. Across the top is depicted an offensive attack of Cavalry, reminding us that the 102nd Machine Gun Battalion was originally the First Squadron Cavalry, Massachusetts National Guard; while a similar panel at the bottom tells without words the work of a group of machine gunners in action.

The tablet, which will bear the names of the "Gold Star" Men of the Battalion is now in process and will soon be placed in a selected position in the lobby of the Commonwealth Armory, a lasting memorial to the brave soldiers who gave their lives for love of country;- two of the Headquarters Troop, thirty-one of Company A, twenty-eight of Company B, and twenty-two of Company C, 102nd M. G. Bn.

The present officers of the Home Association are as follows:—

102nd M. G. B. Home Association: Lt. Col. William A. Perrins, Pres.

Company A Association: William E. Eaton, Pres.
Company B Association: Capt. Stanchfield, Pres.
Company C Association: J. C. Irwin, Pres.
Headquarters Troop: C. L. Gagnebin, Pres.

CHILDRENS' CHRISTMAS CARNIVAL

Nearly 300 little people from all sections of the South End and 30 little guests from the Little Wanderers' Home, Jamaica Plain, made merry at the YD Club the Wednesday afternoon before Christmas, as guests of the club and its auxilliary organizations.

Many of the children were accompanied by their mothers and big brothers and sisters, and ample provision was made for the entertainment of all.

The entire building rang with laughter and songs of the children, and following the entertainment a spread was served, with ice cream, cakes, candies,fruits and Christmas favors. Each visitor received gifts.

Mrs. Harry Porter, chairman of the auxiliary, was in charge of the festival, and was assisted by Col. E. F. Tandy, who led the song program; A. C. Colombo, William Snyder, Rev. M. J. O'Connor, chaplain of the 101st Infantry, and Mrs. Wayland Minot of Cambridge, who was hostess to the delegation from the Home for Little Wanderers.

C. C. Farley, Lieut., 101st Inf., now with the Admiral Hay Press Company of Kansas City, Mo., suggests that anyone who contemplates attending the Legion Convention at Kansas City in 1921 should make his reservations at once. Farley has generously offered to assist any Yanks in this respect. This is a pretty large contract, but we know he is equal to it; (his name is also Clarence.) He says that the Cleveland delegation has already reserved four hundred rooms at one hotel, and others are coming in rapidly, and you have your choice of reserving now or coushay-ing in the Union Station.

The City Council of the City of Lawrence, Mass., recently established the office of War Service Clerk to handle the affairs, claims, etc. of ex-service men and Edward D. Sirois, former Lieut. 102nd F. A., was unanimously elected to the office. He is also Adjutant of the Lawrence Post, A. L.

101st SANITARY TRAIN ORGANIZES

Thursday Evening, December 16th, over a hundred former members of the 101st Sanitary Train met at the Memorial Clubhouse and organized the 101st Sanitary Train Veterans Association. Festivities started with dinner in the Grill Room and it was necessary to hang out the S. R. O. sign early. Cabaret artists (f) made the erstwhile pill-rollers think they were back in France between courses, and inter-table repartee in French and English was the order of the day.

At the organization meeting in the Assembly Hall, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Commander, Dr. William Blanchard; Vice-Commander, Dr. Harry Mains; Treasurer, Patrick J. Kelly; Adjutant, J. O. Emerson. The Executive Committee, composed of one member from each of the units in the train, is as follows: Train Headquarters, Thomas L. Jenkins; 101st Field Hospital, A. Phemister, 102nd Field Hospital, John L. Ralston; 103rd Field Hospital C. Twitchell; 104th Field Hospital, Clarence Walsh; 101 Amb., James Curran; 102nd Amb., Dr. Charles H. Sprague; 103rd Amb., Edward J. Supple; 104th Amb., George A. Vaughn; Medical Supply Unit, Howard D. Johnson; Camp Infirmary Section, Edward Kaplan.

By the unanimous vote of those present Mrs. Louise Fleming was elected First Honorary President of the Association.

It was voted to hold meetings on the third Thursday every month and if other members of the train will make the effort that many did, coming from Worcester, Springfield, Haverhill, Bridgeport, New Haven, Providence, etc., in order to meet the old crowd once more, the next meeting will be everybit as successful as the first.

Request has been made in previous issues that you send in the name and address of any buddie you may know of who either came back before or after the division, but up to date only a few have responded. Now understand that the only record we have of the name and addresses of our fellows are the sailing rosters; consequently, those who did not return with us know little or nothing about the Y. D. Veterans Association and clubs. Inquiries come in daily asking for the address of those whose whereabouts are unknown to us for the reason stated. General Edwards continually bumps into some chap who knows nothing about the Y. D. and naturally wonders why he has not received some information about this lively outfit of ours—and in these cases it does not seem to be so much alive to him. Please,—and again— will you help the association, and your buddies in particular, by sending the secretary the name and address of any who have not heard about our Y. D. activities?

Out of thirty thousand circulars originally mailed over three per cent were returned as not found, so, we must necessarily call on the members for all the help they can give us.

That Mem'rable Battle of Boucq!

An hour before waking;
The dawn was just breaking,
A hienie flew 'round for a loucq:
Over us lined aplomb
He dropped a smoke-bomb;
And thus started the Battle of Boucq:

Headquarters was —well,—
It was scarder than Hell,
With the shells reaching cranny and croucq;
With offices smashed up
And paper-work hashed up,
At the mem'rable Battle of Boucq!

While one second looey,
His nerves all a-flooey
Crawled into the stove with the coucq;
And clerks beat the devil
To get under level;
At the mem'rable Battle of Boucq!

It is but to laugh,
But the whole General Staff
In the cellar their breakfast they toucq;
And the Headquarters Troop
Down a cave looped the loop,
At the mem'rable Battle of Boucq!

The FRENCH MISSION bold,
General Edwards then told
That the town he had better forsoucq;
"For with troops 'round" said they,
"You'll be shelled ev'ry day,
A continuous Battle of Boucq!"

Though he disagreed,
The Gen'ral decreed
Headquarters to move o'er the noucq:
And so before long
We moved on to Trondes
Far away from the Battle of Boucq!

But that is not all.
The frogs had the gall,
When us of the town they had shoucq:
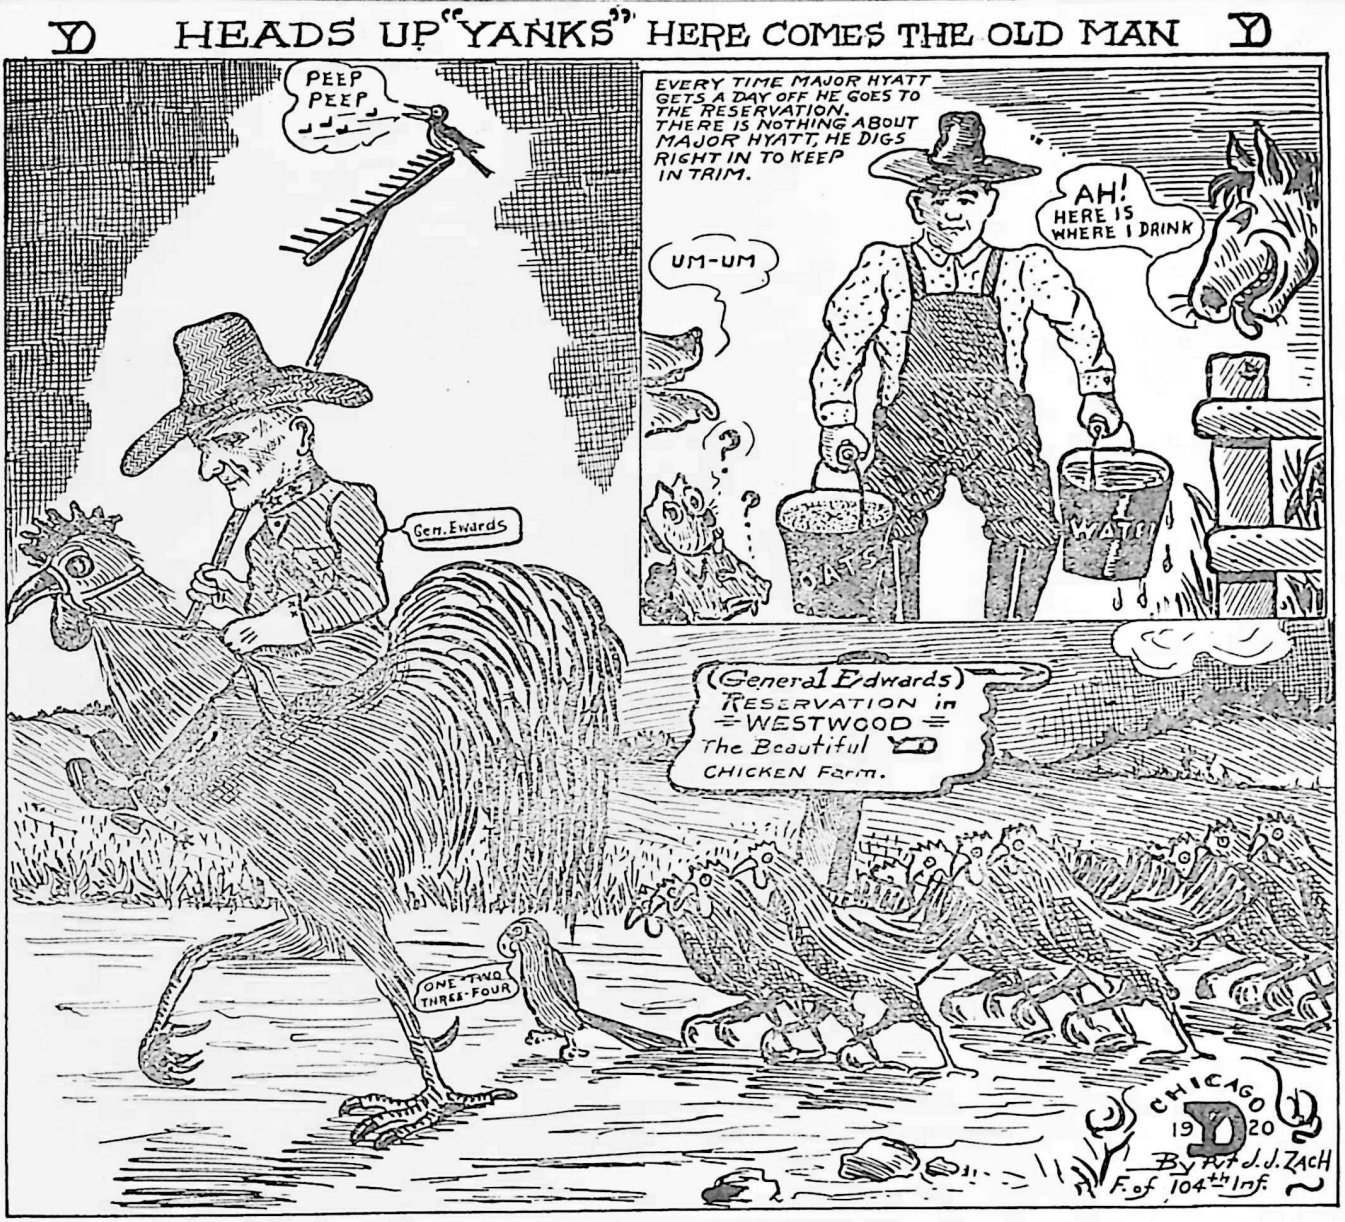
In the Gen'ral's Chateau
Right away they did go!
Question: "Who won the Battle of Boucq?"

Peter Simone, Corp. Co. L., 101 Inf., just discharged from the Fox Hill hospital, is now at his home in Bergenfield, New York, P. O. Box A 63. Peter sends New Years Greetings to all his old outfit, and would like to hear from the gang. Send him a card.

Buddy Clifford Foye, New Haven, called on us Dec. 18th and we were right glad to see him. Speaking of bowling, well, — his south wing wasn't in the best of form, but the fun he had was 100%

Barney Clark, cook of the YD Club of New Haven, is making new life-long friends with the feeds he is putting out. Howard Johnson, Med. Supply, is the latest to be singing Barney's praises.



The General: "Come on the rest o'you birds, Sign Up"

CHRISTMAS EVE CABARET SUPPER AND DANCE

The holiday season opened with a bang Christmas Eve when half a hundred YD Buddies, with as many members of the much fairer sex, gathered in the Grill Room for the Club's first Cabaret Supper and Dance. Tables were arranged three deep along the left and desk sides of the room, leaving ample space in the center for dancing to the jazzy tunes of a real YD Orchestra. The room was attractively decorated with evergreen and red sash-bows, and, either by hook or by crook, two or more couples always happened to be left at the end of a dance directly beneath the clusters of mistletoe suspended from the chandeliers. Two professional cabaret singers also added to the evening's jollity.

The YD Club of Quincy is still digging in. At the annual meeting recently the following officers were elected: Pres. Wells G. Ruggles; V. Pres. Ralph C. Colby; Treas., Channing Deacon; Sec., Sherman Hayden.

On Saturday evenings, starting January 8th and continuing regularly thereafter, there will be a cabaret run in connection with the dinner, and dancing for all those who like to fox-trot between courses. After nine o'clock there will be a special menu of ices. soft-drinks and pastries. It is expected that this new feature will prove one of the most popular of the Club, and it may be wise to make reservations for your party several days ahead.

Plans are in the making for the holding of Club smokers every Wednesday night in the Assembly Hall. Men who have made their mark in business, politics, the arts, the professions, etc., are to be engaged to speak on subjects of the hour, and from our own membership there will be other speakers and entertainers.

While the plans are not definite as yet, it is possible that boxing bouts and moving pictures will be sandwiched in between times.

(2ND Annual YD Military Ball continued)

Army, Navy, City, State, Divisional, and National dignitaries, including Lieutenant Governor- elect Alvan T. Fuller, Mayor Andrew J. Peters, Cong. Peter F. Tague, Admiral and Mrs. S. S. Robison, Admiral and Mrs. H. O. Dunn, Capt. and Mrs. A. E. Watson, Lieut.-Commander and Mrs. Deyo, Lieut.-Comander and Mrs. -Hamilton, Commander W. A. Sullivan of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, Mrs. Larz Anderson, Mrs. Nathaniel F. Emmons, General and Mrs. Charles H. Cole, Captain Estes, aid to General Shanks, Mrs I. G. Prescot, Col. and Mrs. Edward L. Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phelan, Edward Hutchins, W. D. Sohier, James Lawrence, Mrs. George Fearing, Jr., etc. through a list of Boston's well known people that with our list of patronesses would fill this entire issue, through the twenty dances to the exceptionally fine music furnished by Lieut. O'Neil and his 25-piece YD Orchestra in overseas uniform, to the last handshaking, the ball was a spectacle that made every YD man there feel proud of himself, his Club and his committee.

Built around the hall were 48 boxes decorated in buff and blue; streamers of red, white and blue bunting were strung from the roof to the sides, forming clusters of American flags at the top and draping in on the sides to groups of flags of our war-time allies. Hung at the end of the hall was an immense red plush curtain in the center of which, on a blue back-ground was superimposed a huge YD monogram.

Colonel Foley, 101st Inf., kindly turned over his personal rooms at the Armory for the use of the guests and other officers rooms served the same purpose. The corridors to and from the main drill hall were carpeted with rich green velvet and lined with beautiful bay trees. The entire basement was used for checking.

It will be hard to surpass the record made by this year's committee, for efficiency, artistry, and service, and it is to be congratulated.

The Committee on Arrangements follows: Harold J. Smith, Chairman; Ralph M. Eastman, Treasurer; John O. Emerson, Music; James D. Woods, Tickets; Gordon Scott, Publicity; T. Fredenburgh, Features; Frank Glyn, John Ryan, Advertising; Mrs. Nathaniel P. Emmons, Patronesses; Roy D. Kimball, Decorations; Ray C. Smith, Chairman Reception Committee; Francis X. Phelan, Thos. B. Watson, Armory; Walter M. Gillis, Refreshments; George Tingley, Boxes; Chief Usher, Charles H. Cole; Harry M. Brown, Checking; Elon F. Tandy, Master of Ceremonies.

Ushers assisting the sub-reception committee were; William Blake, Dr. W. H. Blanchard, J. W. Boyer, Jr., Hugh L. Brinkley; J. P. O'Callahan, E. H. Cooper, J. A. Creswell, J. O. Emerson, Ora Farnsworth, E. M. Guild, Benjamin James, W. B. Luther, C. D. Morgan, Ed. Nelson, F. X. Phelan, J. R. Rumney, T. L. Storer, Oliver Turner, Daniel Williard, Jr., W. L. Rose, J. J. Mayne, W. B. Van Riper, R. E. Witherell, Arthur Buzwell, J. Lee Sylvester, and P. R. Spencer.

"BATTER UP"

Like unto those who feel that the payment of an admission fee to the ball park entitles them to roast the home team whether they be good or bad, there are too manyYD men just now who feel that the payment of membership fee entitles them to squat in the [illegible] Stand and forever ride other YD men who are up at the bat, trying their best to hit a homer for their Association and their Club.

Such a privilege, however, is not a fact; in the game that we must play through the coming years the rest of the world may look on and judge, but by no means has anyone of our own membership the right because our Team is not one of nine men, nor ninety men, nor nine thousand men, but is composed of each and every man of the fifty thousand who were on the rolls of the 26th Division in France.

The sole reason many men are now batting in the position they are is because the Team must be represented, and they are the best that have volunteered. And the men who step up to the plate and strike out are more valuable to the Association than the Spanish wonders who perch on their spines in the Grand Stand and do nothing but crab, because the man who strikes out is at least getting an eyefull of experience that will be of benefit to the Club later on, while the knocker gets nothing but laryngitis.

If you think there are too many goose-eggs in the hit column, salvage your hammer and requisition a bat, step up to the plate and see what you yourself can do to keep the Yankee Division at the top of the Veterans' League.

We suppose that General Edwards will give it to us in our editorial neck for telling the world that he is sixty-two years young today, (Jan.1), but when we have reached that milestone on life's highway, if we can look back on a life as nobly lived, as unselfishly wrought and as conscientiously purposed, we will have just cause with the world to rejoice.

General Clarence R. Edwards; The YANKEE DIVISION VETERANS ASSOCIATION to the last man-jack of us congratulates you on this day, and wishes you the happiest year your life has ever known, and we are standing back of our wish, not only eager, but aggressively determined to make it so.

HISTORY OF THE 103rd INFANTRY

Copies of the HISTORY OF THE 103rd INFANTRY by Major C. R. Cabot, who served in command of the 3rd Battalion and was with the 103rd from the time it was mustered in at Westfield until the day it was mustered out at Camp Devens, may now be obtained at Association Headquarters, 200 Huntington Ave.

Major Cabot's book is one of the few that have been written so that Mr. John Doughboy can understand it, and while it is vital that ex-members of the 103rd have it, it is also worth while reading by all ex-YD men regardless of their command. There are only about 200 copies left; the price is two dollars.

(General Nivelle, Continued)

Jean B. Le Meitour and J. W. Boyer, Jr., met the General upon his arrival, and on behalf of the Yankee Division Veterans Association invited him to inspect the Memorial Clubhouse and meet the members.

At noon the Clubhouse was thronged with Buddys from all over New England and when the General entered, accompanied by Colonel Paul Azan, French Army, he was greeted with a YD cheer that shook the rafters.

General Cole, as the ranking officer in the absence of General Edwards, made a stirring speech welcoming General Nivelle to the Home of the Yankee Division, saying, in part; "The New England Division owes a debt to France which can never be repaid. It was welcomed by your inhabitants in 1917 in a way it can never forget. It was trained by a French Division, it went into its first sector in the Chemin des Dames as a god-child of General de Maud'huys Corps; it was in French Corps and Armies up to its service with Colonel Claudel's Colonial Division in the Meuse-Argonne fight in the end. It served longer under French Command than any other American Division.'

General Nivelle had to beg that the cheering stop when he rose to reply. "Dear Comrades in Arms: I thank you so much for your kind welcome. I am deeply touched by the hearty words of your chief. I know what the 26th has done in France; she was,—I know her glorious way,—on all the battlefields of the great war.

"France has been happy to send us as delegates to tell you we stand with you in one heart in this celebration of the ter centenary of the Mayflower and the anniversary of the armistice.

"It is our destiny to walk hand in hand, France and America,—in crises of humanity. And now, to solve the problems of peace, we need the same mutual goodwill and trust as in war. In 1620 we won the conquest for liberty of conscience; in 1780 the conquest for the rights of man, in which your great Washington fought with our Lafayette and Rochambeau. And now our friendship is cemented in the triumph of civilizaton over barbarism by the blood of your heroes, and we shall stand together forever for Liberty, Justice, and Humanity!"

General Nivelle was very surprised to learn that all the men present had been overseas. When the requirements of our membership were explained to him, he exclaimed, "Mon Dieu! What a bond of sympathy must exist among these men in this splendid suburb of France where they can keep alive the many friendships and experiences made over there!"

We will never forget the famous French Warrior, and we hope that he will never forget the demonstration of hearty feeling toward him and his native France.

John O. Emerson, Div. Hq., is now connected with the Boston office of Worth & Company, a Philadelphia banking house.

CALENDAR: BOSTON CLUB

January 1 Dance Co. "B" 101st Engrs.
January 8 First Weekly Dinner Dance
January 8 Banquet Co. "C" 101st Engrs
January 12 Banquet Co. "A" 101st Inf.
January 12 Club Meeting, Grill Room, 8.30 p. m. Election Nominating Committee.
January 13 Smoker. Col. E. L. Logan will speak on his recent visit to France
January 15 Banquet Co. "A" 101st Engrs.
January 18 Signal Corps — Smoker
January 19 Invitation Dance. Bessie Edwards Circle
January 20 Meeting of Sanitary Train
January 22 Banquet Co. "F" 101st Engrs
January 29 Club Dance Am. Tr. Aux.
February 2 Dance Co. "A" 101st Inf.
February 5 Banquet Co. "D" Sup. Train
Dinner Dance each Saturday

"F" COMP'NY: F-AW-LL IN!

ATTENSHUN!!

Right dress! - wear civies, etc.
Front!! - the best front you can show.
GENERAL ORDER # 3½, C.A.E. (come & eat)
F CO., 101ST ENG'RS. will eat and raise "L", on January 22, 1921, 7 P.M. at Y CLUB, 200 Huntington Ave., Boston, Mass.
Come on over, even if you have to wear overcoats & slickers; by all means come, but don't bring a mess-kit. If you are happy, come! and you will be happier. If you're not happy, come! and you'll be happy before you leave. If you don't come, someone will tell you what a good time you missed and then, regret If you live out of town, you can bunk at the Y CLUB.
Fill out the enclosed post card & mail it before JAN. 12, whether you can come or not We want your right address & we want you to come on JAN. 22.
Dinner, entertainment, etc. will cost $3.50
Tickets from the Secretary of the Dinner Com. - RALPH TAYLOR
128 HIGHLAND RD., WEST SOMERVILLE, MASS.

Association members will have an opportunity Thursday Evening, January 13th to hear Col. Logan tell about his recent trip to France on a tour of inspection of the American graves. Colonel Logan will also tell us the story of the monumental markers that have already been put up in various towns in France by other divisional associations.

MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION BLANK

YD Club of Boston

(Legal Name) Boston Chapter, Yankee Division Veterans Association

200 HUNTINGTON AVENUE

I, _____ (Print Name in Full), hereby make application for _____ (See note) membership in the YD Club of Boston and for membership in the Yankee Division Veterans Association and enclose _____ dollars for dues for one year.

I served in _____ (Company or Battery) _____ (Regiment) from _____ 19____ to _____ 19____ with the rank of _____ and was honorably discharged.

Residence Address _____ (Tel. No.)

Business Address _____ (Name of Firm) (Tel. No.)

_____ (Street and No.) (City or Town) (State)

Send Mail to _____ Occupation _____

NOTE: Dues are as follows:
Life Membership. $250.00.
Resident Membership. (Residence or place of business within 20 miles of Boston). $5.00
Non-Resident Membership, 1st Class. (Residence or place of business more than 20 or less than 100 miles from Boston). $2.00.
Non-Resident Membership, 2nd Class. (Residence or place of business more than 100 miles from Boston). $1.00.

Dues cover membership in YD Association. Fiscal year begins April 1, 1920.
Make checks payable to FRANK S. PERKINS, Treasurer.